President's Corner

By Shady Hollow Board President, Bradley Reeves

Greetings Shady Hollow!

My name is Brad Reeves, and I am your new HOA President for the Shady Hollow HOA. I am humbly taking the reins from Joan Allen, who tirelessly served in this role for 5 years! She successfully brought this neighborhood through a series of trials and tribulations, and I want to express my gratitude to her for all of her efforts these past few years.

I cannot believe that we are just a couple of weeks away from the end of the school year! The Stingrays swim team is already in full swing, and they take on the VOSH Barracudas this weekend at the Capistrano pool. Let's go Stingrays!

Speaking of the Capistrano pool, mark your calendars for May 25th—the pool will be open for community swim beginning that Memorial Day weekend. Be on the lookout for updated hours and pool policies in the next couple of weeks to make sure you and your family are ready to enjoy one of our community's best amenities.

I am looking forward to my new role as HOA President; I have very big shoes to fill. The Board has some great ideas to continue to improve the neighborhood, including ways to increase and improve the way we communicate with the membership as a whole when dealing with a variety of things. I hope you will continue to support the Board as we strive to keep Shady Hollow one of the best neighborhoods in Austin.

If you see me around (I will certainly be taking full advantage of the pool being open), please do not hesitate to stop me and introduce yourself. Until then, have a great end of May as we head into summer.

Thank you,

Bradley Reeves

May Landscape Tips

What a Fabulous Spring!

By Kim Goyette

The Hill Country is peaking with spring color. The recent rains really pushed a flush of blooms that had been delayed due to the drought and extended cold weather. Now is the time to stay on top of your landscaping before the heat kicks in.

Mulch

Now that leaf and pollen drop season is done it is time to start mulching your plants if you have not done so already. Avoid piling mulch up the trunk of a tree. This will invite insect and disease damage. Just pull it away from the trunk a couple of inches. The best design is a simple flat disc of mulch. A Volcano or Doughnut shape is not easy to maintain.

Irrigation

Trying to get your plants established before the heat of summer is important. Deep, infrequent watering will get that done. Be sure to do a full "walk-thru" of your irrigation system. Turn on each station from the clock and inspect each head individually. Check for clogged nozzles, geysers, misaligned heads, underground leaks, valves that don't fully shut down (slow leaks) and poor coverage. Using an empty tuna can, you can measure the "inches per hour" of your system. During the heat of summer, it's recommended that you apply 3/4 to 1 1/2 inches of water per week for turf (depends on soil depth and quality). This can be next to impossible if you can only water one day per week. No matter what your days are, using the run-soak-run system is best and prevents run off. Instead of watering a station 1 time per night, run it 3 times for 1/3 of the time. This improves water penetration and deeper roots.

Turf

As it gets warmer, remember that St. Augustine should be mowed no shorter than 3 inches. The longer the blades, the more shade is applied to the soil surface and the root structure is at or just below the soil surface. This acts as mulch in the sense that it keeps the right amount of moisture and allows the roots and rhizomes to be protected from direct sun. Bermuda and Zoysia can be successfully maintained at a lower height, but keep in mind that if the height is taken too low too soon, the turf could brown out and going into the summer it may be difficult to reestablish.

Beds

Pay attention to water and light requirements; most native perennials require full sunlight and very little water once established. If you have not done so yet complete your cutbacks in order to get more blooms. Remember to plant according to shade and soils conditions.

Fertilizer and Weed Control

Finish up your post emergent weed control applications. Remember once it gets too hot the temperatures can cause the turf to stress and die back. Follow the label on all materials. Go ahead and apply a balanced fertilizer if you have not done so already. Get the grass, and shrubs, ready for the summer heat.

Consult the City of Austin's website for current watering restrictions. Remember to adjust your automatic sprinklers or manual watering times based on your address. <https://www.austintexas.gov/department/find-your-watering-day>

HOA Member Communication

Matt Mitchell: Excited to be running for the board this year. Had question regarding the upcoming election, but we are not able to answer questions at this time. Will follow up with Rachel Adkins, Office Manager.

Jayson Dotzenrod: UT Pickle ball team was practicing from 4pm to closing, and utilizing two courts. They have been on our courts on numerous occasions. Wants to know how it is possible to reserve a court for more than two hours and use more than one court since this is the time allotted for residents. The coach is a resident, but the other 10-15 people using the courts during this time are not. Would like to have the parks and rec committee to look into this situation and make sure that our residents have time to reserve the courts.
